As a result of the games for match day 3, the league remains very tight with Giants holding a slim 1 point lead over Titans with a game in hand, but lots of games still to play, so early days!!

Key features of last night's games were Will McGuinness's first win of the league over Will Green. Andy R certainly earned his referee's registration with the game between Cedric and Avtar, numerous difficult decisions plus the Avtar stare!! Stewart and Martin were having a very competitive game but Martin sadly had to retire injured after the 3rd game.

For the 2nd week in a row, Andy featured in a sweaty 5 game thriller, just falling short 17-15 in the 5th to the author!!

Next week's games;

Gladiators v Titans and Giants v Warriors
